59h1 Ferny Lane, Norfolk Island

Prime Block in Convenient Location

This prime building block is private yet only five minutes drive to town or beach with access down a secluded driveway.

The owners have recently cleared the area to highlight its potential and showcase the Northerly aspect, which provides the perfect building opportunity for a fresh new start! The cleared block offers a blank canvas to create a new build with great views of the mountain and valleys.

This would be an ideal block for someone wanting open space, but also a low maintenance, manageable block. At a little over one acre the property allows for creation of orchards, vege gardens and plenty of room for a chook pen!

Secure the land now and make plans for a new build - this location will not disappoint.
