

17 Captain Cook Road, Norfolk Island

Escape to Tranquillity in Anson Bay

Tucked away in the peaceful surrounds of Anson Bay, just moments from Captain Cook Lookout, this character-filled timber residence offers a rare combination of privacy, space, and relaxed island living.

Set on approximately one acre of flat usable land, the property enjoys a serene, natural setting that feels a world away, while still remaining conveniently accessible. Surrounded by established greenery and open space, this is a home designed for those seeking tranquillity without compromise.

Inside, the home reveals a warm and inviting layout with a distinct sense of charm. There are three bedrooms in total, including a loft-style master retreat that provides a private haven, complete with a walk-in robe. The family bathroom is well-appointed with both a bath and separate shower, catering comfortably to everyday living, while an additional downstairs powder room enhances practicality.

The kitchen forms the heart of the home, offering a functional workspace with timber cabinetry and Laminex benchtops. It connects seamlessly to the adjoining dining area, creating an easy flow for family meals and entertaining. The lounge is a standout space, featuring high raked ceilings that add volume and character, and a built-in bar - perfect for quiet evenings or hosting guests.

Practical elements have been thoughtfully included, with a separate laundry and a substantial garage/workshop providing excellent storage and versatility for tools, hobbies, additional workspace, or scope to add another large room to the home.
